FEDERAL AGENT GIVES ADDRESS AT CONVOCATION

G-Men Convict 94% of All Caught; Agents Well Educated.

The fight of the United States Bureau of Justice against criminals of federal laws was told to Wartburg students at last Thursday's convocation by W. H. D. Lester, government agent in charge of the federal investigators.

Many people believe that the G-men's activities are mainly concerned with trailing and arresting criminals but there is much more to it than that, Lester explained. Only 6% of the criminals caught escape conviction, he said, not enough Graft to supply the criminals of the country with one ounce to their hands. And none of the cases handled last year were concerned with interstate transportation of "hot oil" or "hot babies," the speaker told students.

Lester Explains

College training, he said, is necessary for entrance to the service. More than 94% of the Bureau's men have had college training, he said, between 25 and 35. All agents are required to have had two years college and the law of firearms.

"The government is a real economy to the government, for last year alone it saved the people dollar expenses $38,500,000, although it required only $18 a year to keep each dollar's worth safe," Mr. Lester asserted. He told several cases of kidnapping case reported to it, through the use of which various kinds of crime and several criminals in every instance.

Emphasizes Fingerprints

Lester laid special stress on the value of fingerprinting as a means of identification, pointing out that no individual ever changes, said the speaker, and that the finger tips are of distinctive pattern.

Fingerprint cabinets are now in other countries. This enables the government to exchange information with those countries when we wanted in connection with crime.

The Rev. S. M. Becker, Cedar Falls, spoke at the Monday chapel and faculty Monday on "Uncertainties" and "Certainties" in our daily lives. He pointed out the uncertainty of mutability of human glory. Often promises of men and the fashions of the world are fickle. Nevertheless certainties do exist.

"Certainty exists in relation to the highest ideals. Beauty of beauty" he said, "is certain. Physical beauty may fade or be destroyed," he continued.

Although men and women have been fickle and have failed to put a worldly glory even the greatest of beauties, the Rev. Becker declared, "there will be the reality of earthly glory," he added.

Stresses Uncertainty of Man.

"The uncertainty of human society today are evidence that the highest ideals of human society will be continued, mentioning economic and political uncertainties of the country.

Neumann Library Includes First Editions, Old Books

Oldest Book Found in Latin Manuscript, Published 1661.

Are you interested in old books and first editions? If you are you should visit the library and confer with Dean G. C. Neumann's collection.

And if you think that old books are all of the old-fashioned kind you are all the old-fashioned kind you are mistaken, declared the dean as you will find many modern books in Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad," or Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island."

Found in Latin Manuscript.

The oldest book in the Neumann collection published in 1661, looks like a manuscript and is printed in half-inch letter and leavers, for it is bound in the old manuscript form. It is a book bearing the old type of mounted horseback.

Henry Ward Covers Attest.

Henry Ward Beecher's book covers catch the eye and retain a copy of Holmes' "Kathrina," upon the most valuable as well as the most interesting books in the collection although it really is not. Perhaps the other wedding dedication inside explains the unusual covers.

Fiested "Pirate."

Dean Neumann also owns a printed copy of "The Pirate" by Scott, the first edition of which was published in Paris the same year as did the original in Edinburgh, 1822.

Perhaps the rarest notables are nearing in any of three books in Neumann library. Published in 1837 to 1839 numbers before 5 in the "Printing" which is bound in a very poetic edition of Samuel Johnson's "Rasselas" published in 1792.

"Nice Race of Golds."

An original manuscript of Washington by the British signed by Washington's secretary Wesley Register (Baltimore). In the dedication to the people of the English are characterized as "a nice race of golds" and the duties of the people of the government and the laws are explained.

Besides the books mentioned in the collection, all people are classified in the library of Dean Neumann. This is Richardson's Sir Charles Grandison.

"Bathtub it Anderson."

The first publication of Shakespeare is found in the 1731 copy of Voltaire's "Letters Concerning the English Nation" by Anticorum. The essay "Bathtub it Anderson" is found in this volume.

Fiction Mystery.

"Fiction De-Luce, first edition of Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe" is included. Dr. Neumann also owns Fielding's "Tom Jones" and Smollett's "Peregrine Pickle" and "Roderick Random" and three books by Mark Twain.

THE SEASON OF LENT

In this issue of the Trumpet we are introducing the first of a series of Lenten meditations prepared by Doctor John Huttner, head of the Christianity department.

The season of Lent, which has just begun, is a season of reflection, self-denial, and prayer. What is it going to mean to us students? How are we going to observe this Lenten season? Will we, as we have so often in the past, merely live our ordinary life during Lent, giving very little thought as to its meaning and its significance for us?

Let us this year become "Lent conscious". Let us realize our Christian duty and truly observe this season of reflection, self-denial, and prayer. The forthcoming Lenten meditations should aid and inspire us during this season. Let us read them and profit by them.

SHALL WARTBURG JOIN THE IOWA CONFERENCE?

There has been considerable discussion recently regarding Wartburg's athletic policy in the coming year. The problem involved is whether Wartburg should retain its membership in the Tri-State conference or withdraw from that loop to seek entrance into the Iowa conference.

The Trumpet feels that it would be inadvisable to continue as a member of the Tri-State conference for financial reasons. First of all, it is impractical financially. Traveling expenses are an important item in the athletic budget. A study of the map brings to these interesting figures. In the Tri-State loop the nearest member is the Platteville Miners which is a distance of 180 miles from Waverly. All the Iowa conference are located closer than this distance from Waverly, two of them being only 50 and 60 miles away, Upper Iowa and Luther, respectively. Western Union of Le Mars, the most distant from Wartburg of any Iowa conference school, is but approximately 80 miles than any Tri-State school with the exception of the Miners. However, the most distant Iowa conference school is Dubuque, 250 miles from Waverly. There is only one school in the Iowa conference that is more than 200 miles from Waverly, that being Western Union at LeMars.

Averaging the traveling distances in the two loops we find that the average trip in the Tri-State is 265 miles while in the Iowa conference it is only 140 miles, a little more than half the distance that Wartburg teams must travel in the Tri-State loop. Coach Schwan has figured out the mileage in that of hotel and meal expense. Most of the Iowa circuit teams are grouped making it possible to meet two or even three teams on a single road trip.

In the second place, joining the Iowa conference would give Wartburg publicity of considerable value. Very few people in Iowa or even in the near surrounding territory have any knowledge of or interest in these Tri-State schools, with the obvious reason that its members are too far removed. On the other hand, the Iowa conference is very well known in Iowa and receives a great deal of publicity in the Iowa daily papers. Upon joining this group Wartburg would also receive this publicity.

Another factor is the angle of interest. With Wartburg playing Iowa conference teams, not only would more interest be aroused in the student body but also among the people of the surrounding territory. Undoubtedly this would lead to greater crowds at our athletic games.

Some may think that the competition in the Iowa conference is too strong for Wartburg. Various individuals who have decided a number of Iowa loop games have also expressed the opinion that Wartburg would make a creditable showing against many Iowa conference schools.

Due to the fact that the Iowa circuit has such a large membership, Wartburg would benefit by scheduling the weaker teams in the conference and thus gradually work its way to a higher ranking. Six of the present Iowa conference members have approximately the same enrollment as Wartburg. Various Iowa conference officials have expressed their approval of membership as a member.

With the Iowa conference holding its annual meeting in Waterloo this spring, the Trumpet urges that the necessary steps be taken to obtain membership in that conference.

WE WANT YOUR OPINION

The Trumpet wishes to reflect the student life and opinion of Wartburg as well as possible. The editors will appreciate any ideas, suggestions, or criticisms you may have.

We shall also be glad to receive any articles on the paper from alumni or any others interested in the welfare of the Trumpet.

—T—

WE EXPRESS OUR SYMPATHY

The Trumpet wishes to express its sympathy and that of the entire college to the Rev. George W. Krueger upon the death of his mother, Mrs. Charles Krueger of Sumner, which occurred last Sunday, Feb. 23. The Rev. Mr. Krueger, a Wartburg alumnus, was college pastor of Wartburg college at Clinton for many years and has always been a true friend and shepherd to the school and its students.

We also hope for his speedy recovery from his present illness. Services at the Clinton church are in charge of Dr. Wm. Rodemann and the Rev. Fred Schoenbohm of Elvira.

Bible Translations Increase Up To 972

The number of languages in which the Bible or some part of it has been published now totals 972, according to an announcement issued by the American Bible Society.

Among the recent publications of the society is the revised Pocket Bible for Travelers and Readers, which will be issued in Pekingese, the language of the Chinese capital. Two new nationalities are publishing the Bible in their own tongue for the first time, printed in Latin characters, the Kpelle of Liberia, distributed by Japanese Bible colporteurs, and the Kikuyu.

An analysis of the American Bible Society's work shows that Europe is the grand total of 972 languages in which scriptures are published, has received the complete Bible has now been translated into 144 languages; the New Testament in 206 additional languages; portions of the Bible in 67 or one complete book in 314 more, and selections from the Bible only in less than a complete book, in 161 more languages.—Ada, Standard.

ORGANIZATIONS

Remarkable Is Discuss Opera.

The session of the Art Society on the next meeting of the Philomelic Society. Miss Hilbrede Brandtjar will lead the discussion of the topic. Miss Voelker has been chosen.

German Literature Featured.

German literature was featured at the Pestalozzi-Froebel Club meeting held Tuesday evening, February 25, at the home of Dr. Gotsch. A reading the modern German drama by Emil Kreiter was stated by Ernest Poellmann, a study of the poetry of Goethe and of literature of all ages. Mr. Engelbrecht arranged the program. A great piece of literature have always been chosen from the German people. They are interwoven in the lives of the people. The dreams of their own day and of the future have been studied. Ruth Schwanke.

THE SPECTATOR

E. C. Kreiter

The first basketball game Sandy Sundstrom showed up at the Wartburg-Miners game with a pair of shoes that looked like they had been run over by a truck. Platteville seem to call for me he saw Coach Carter in the locker room before he drove around and around the block until Coach Schwan had about two hours. Coach went up town for a smoke and met John Richards with his grin. It was hard enough to spot Coach, but Richards with his grin, but, what was still worse, Richards was smoking a cigar. Coach grinned, jingled at coachdom and Richards grinned and bought the tickets. A thing like that is heart breaking.

In a cold way, the end of raising beards is in sight. Many were seen around the school. Rusty Schaefer's beard is no longer among them and the first to sport a dirty speaking face was Otto Albert Gutzkat carried on with a blond shiny affair that we think Coach Ted Williams came to the front with the watch looked a little too much like love for a man like Ted. I wondered if some of it's darkness couldn't have been rubbed off. A few others, including Ed Hurtz, have tried and failed to go parading with a fuzzy lip for a day or two, but have shaved once while it off at the next shave.

LENTEN MEDITATIONS

Under The Cross

We have again entered the season of Lent. What does Lent mean to you? Nothing? Well it makes very little difference in the routine of our daily life?

Unlike other times of the church year, Lent is a season of sadness and with little strong natural human appeal. Lent is a sure test of our spiritual make-up. There is little human inclination, especially in the prime of life, to follow a humble Savior who suffered, died in all the glorious death. The whole story is one of suffering and sadness, stumbling-blocks to the Jew and, as we have seen, to the Greek. What was the Cross mean to you?

Does it mean enough to you to set aside at least a few minutes every day during Lent for prayer, meditation on the story of the Cross? Perhaps you have purposed to a copy of the time daily devotional to be used in the church this season, or by God in the Christian's life.

Does it mean enough to you to entirely forsake your former sinful attitude towards your fellow men? Does it mean to you that the Cross is how much of it can stand the test?

Does it mean enough to you to please the fine season of Christian self-denial—fasting during this season? This does not mean that fasting up some article for the time being. Such habitation will be of little benefit spiritually to you. It means that a certain amount of spiritual freedom from things and habits which have no spiritual value should be brought about in themselves. There is such a thing as spiritual hygiene in the form of self-discipline. You may desire to refrain from things for several forms. How much can you refrain from?

You will not come out of this Lenten season the same person that it will reflect you one way or the other. It is up to you to take it seriously. More concerning about your Lenten meditations will be published in the next issue of the Trumpet.

The Cross sets man's way. It sets it from the Cross and we follow on Plato and on the Roman emperors, on Columbus and Napoleon.

Plans and blessing pain and sorrow.

By the Cross are sanctified: Peace is there that knows no measure.

Joys that through all time abide.

—Dr. J. Huttner.

GRAENING GIVES ENGLISH PAPER

Copies of Manchester Weekly Has Articles, Pictures of King's Funeral.

Two copies of the Manchester Guardian Weekly, an English newspaper, were presented to the Wartburg college library this week by Dr. C. H. Greening of Waverly.

These papers are of special significance since they contain many articles and pictures of the funeral of the late King George.

Mary Thanks Empire.

Among the articles is a personal message from Queen Mary to her people. The following are excerpts from her letter:

"I must send to you, the people of the nations and Empire, a message of my deepest gratitude for all the sympathy with which in this time you have surrounded me.

We Continue To Serve.

After expressing her hope that she may still be able in some part to continue the service which she and the late King first made to give the Empire, Queen Mary ends her message in the following words:

"I commend to you my dear son as his reign has begun, in confident hope that you will give to him the same devotion and loyalty which you gave so abundantly so long to me."

God bless you dear people, for all the wonderful love and sympathy with which you have surrounded me.

Mary.

INQUIRING REPORTER

The Inquiring Reporter heard some comment around the campus concerning Wartburg's athletic relations in respect to continuing to play "Co-eds" or seeking a number of games in some other conference. Most people seemed undecided as to what to do but did think something information on the subject. The following is the result of his search.

Levi Kuhl, president of sophomore class: "Wartburg should begin to withdraw the Iowa conference. All their games seem to go against us towards such a move."

Eugene Leonhardy, sophomore: "I believe that Wartburg college should join the Iowa conference because of the benefits financially. The publicity would be greater and than we have at present as members of the Triangle league."

Schalkhauser, president of the male chorus: "Attempts should be made to establish relations with Iowa conference schools. Athletic relations would result in greater and more friendly publicity."

Coach E. W. Hertel: "I would only be in favor of it if the Iowa conference would agree to the value of the points received from each game. Standings in the Iowa loop would be unattainable."

Rev. A. H. Braun, field director and publicity manager: "It would be advisable by attempts to get entrance into the Iowa conference or at least establish relations with Iowa conference schools. This would be beneficial financially as well as giving us added publicity. Further competition in the Tri-State is too expensive and Iowa conference teams would be more of a drawing card."

B TEAM TRIPS SUMNER, 38-33

On Friday, Feb. 14, the Wartburg B team journeyed to Sumner and defeated the Sumner Independents by a 38-33 score. The Wartburg team played a good event fighting game. Sumner led at the half 17 to 15. The two teams battled hard in the last half and were tied 28 to 28 when Captain "Short" Engelbrecht took it upon himself to put his team back in the running and by dropping in seven points, ably assisted by Williams and Benning with four and six points respectively, the Wartburg B's romped ahead in the closing minutes to take the game.

On the Sumner team, Sievers, captain, and Wayne Nyman were the only two who had played in the first half and were behind 28 to 15

HERTELMEN DROP MINERS IN SLOW 37-25 CONTEST

Knights Take Second Place in Tri-State Conf. Standings.

According to the latest information, the postponed Minnesota-Notre Game will be played here Wednesday, March 11. Coach Heitel announced Friday.

The Wartburg College Knights romped to victory over Macalester in a Tri-State conference game at the Waverly high school gymnasium last Feb. 25, by the score of 37-25. This victory gave the Knights undisputed possession of second place in the Tri-State standings.

Wartburg ran up a large score in the first half while holding the Scots down to two field goals as the half ended 23-4.

Kretschmar Opens Scoring

Kretschmar scored the opening for the Black and Orange, followed up a basket by Meyhew from 20 feet out and Dixon dropped in two consecutive to make the score 9-0. Two more from this point on during the half was all the Scots could do as the Knights were content to hold what they got that half. Kretschmar, Meyhew and Harder were the leaders in the attack, accounting for 9, 9 and 8 points respectively.

Although the Miners outscored the Knights in the second half they were unable to overcome the large Wartburg lead. The Miners opened the scoring in the second half when Peterson dropped in a field goal followed by a basket by J. Burris, but Wartburg countered with baskets when Opperman and Nyman dropped in two apiece to make the score 27-7. At this point Coach Heitel substituted a new team of Fischer, Koch, Heitel, Sappuh and Shaulis. The Miners then began to click and string behind the leadership of T. and D. Burris, Peterson, Hall and Lefebvre were also responsible for some of the points. The Knights spent the remaining minutes of the game in passing and holding the ball until the gun, the score ending 37-25.

Inability to let the ball through the Knight attack from overwhelming the Miners. Scoring honors were fairly evenly divided for the evening. Harder was high point man with ten points, followed by Kretschmar, Meyer and Nyman with six points apiece. The Miner attack was led by the Burris brothers combination who chalked up a total eight of the Miners' points.

Statistics on Conference Distances

With the question of Wartburg's future athletic policy under consideration, it is interesting to study the following statistics in regard to withdrawn in the two conferences. Mileage is of course distance from Waverly:

Organization of Student Athletic Council Is Urged

Who is it that supports the athletic program of Wartburg? Are it the students who support it? Almost every other college has provided for the support of athletics through an organization on the athletic council and student body. Wartburg recently had a plan has proved its practice highly successful. Why makes Wartburg the we can't introduce such a system here at Wartburg?

A suggestion for such an action is as follows:

The student body as a whole shall elect three members, a senior, a junior and a sophomore to represent the students of the Council. The senior member shall be appointed as chairman of the council and the junior the vice-chairman. This council shall have a voice in those committees which have to do with the athletic affairs through its representatives to the faculty committee on athletics. Since in regard to the athletic budget, it shall be the student body to be heard, with the chairman of the council as spokesman.

Such an arrangement seems to be necessary, practicable, and desirable to elect a separate "athletic council" because the two conference committees because the different natures and a separate "athletic council" would prove to be of much importance in obtaining satisfactory athletic agreements that it had duty should be the "student council" as a whole to be represented.

Let's try an "athletic council." It is the duty of the student body to be heard by the student body but to the faculty as well.

LITTLE KNIGHTS DEFEAT SUMNER

Overtime Period Necessary To Decide Old Rivalry Contest At Sumner, Tuesday.

In another one of their close and hectic battles the Wartburg preparatory Little Knights downed the Independence High team in overtime game at Sumner on the local floor Tuesday evening, Feb. 25, by the score of 32-30. Sumner led at the half 16-13, while the regulation game ended 22-22. In the overtime period the reserve worked better than usual, and after scoring two points a minute ended the game 32-30.

The regulation game was close throughout, but the quality of play either Wilkins or R. Fitsch to drop in a clutch toss in the last minute closed the game a tie. In the overtime period Orval Hinz likewise shared the scoring honors all around. This ended Coach Ed Schaefer's seven with a record of 8 wins in 15 starts.

With the basketball season almost completed our readers help but compare the record of Wartburg with that in regard to the 1935-37 basketball season. Wartburg in 211-Saint competition in ten encounters won seven and failed to be a 500 winning card to local basketball fans. The great distance that Wartburg is removed from the other Tri-State members has also prevented the game profits in making teams for the trip. Many people have inquired as to the possibility of these games could be eliminated by packing up with the Iowa conference. The average distance in the Iowa loop would be less. Wartburg have to travel it only 180 miles, as compared to 370 in the Tri-State circuit. This, in addition to the many profitable games the league invariably offers to local gaming, would have a unique advantage at present. Let's all get behind this movement.

There is no denying Hershbergs is the best agency to receive publicity. Many people who follow Wartburg through the sister town in the last few years have heard Lester College's name. Coach Ida has also been a student there. You must have a real team down there at Waverly. I have been reading of the victories in the Register. How much area has there been in any of the late papers on the sport what has been found on the courts year? And that books true for every school. Besides this, advertising information on the sporting itself in giving the students a feeling of school loyalty and unity.

How can this publicity be gained? Not by playing teams unknown to fame, but by those with a better known. Whether you win or lose is more publicity for you. Be gained from playing a well known rather than one with which you people have ever before heard. Furthermore, it is the best policy to lose to a well-known team than to defeat any little known.

And that brings us to the basketball schedule this spread. At present schedule has been arranged but the succession of the sports department is that only college teams be

ALL CONF. GRID TEAM SELECTED

Captain-elect Nickel and Ed. Harden Are Named on Tri-State Team.

Although the 1936 football season has long since been laid away in the past history it is nevertheless interesting to look back at the work of Wartburg's rather unsuccessful season. The following dope is based on the All-Conference team. These are Ed Harden, outstanding tackle of the ballless posts, and Art Nickel, 180 pounder, who will be the town one of the end positions on the 1936 Wartburg football team.

A glance at the records sent out by the Tri-State Conference shows that the Wartburg team fared much better than the last season when only one win was chalked up. We find that Wartburg was defeated by the least necessary scoring points, they on an average of only about three points per game. The records also show us that the Knights were the highest scoring team to chalk up a less touchdown total than any other team, and another high scoring machine in the Tri-State circuit. Also that Wartburg points towards a grounded five points per game. This record was made by Harden's brother Dick. Here's the All-Conference selections:

First Team—All-Conference selections:
F.B. Lindell, Aurora.
H.B. Meyer, Wartburg.
C. Richter, Milwaukee.
